Philosophy Sunday (Pellissippi State)

September 17, 10:30 AM

"Car Talk: How the Automobile Has Ruined American Society," will be this month's topic. In this provocative presentation, Dr. Thomas Hood, University of Tennessee Department of Sociology, takes the stance that the automobile has encouraged the development of many selfish patterns of living that are unsustainable and damaging to the environment. He draws upon research on the destruction of mass transportation systems and the encouragement of patterns of housing that have created an emerging crisis in society. Come, listen, participate, and learn. Socializing begins at 10:00 AM. The discussion begins at 10:30.
